

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

The Congress voted to take the taxes off of oleomargarine — and thus reduce its cost to the housewife. That is what the housewives were led to believe.

I received petitions and letters. All signers wanted the federal tax removed so they could buy oleo more cheaply.

I don't blame any manufacturer, nor any distributor, nor any grocer, for wanting to get rid of any tax. I'd like to get rid of a few I pay myself. But, my dear Mrs. Housewife, how will this vote save you money in your budget?

22 states have laws which tax oleo or prohibit coloring it yellow, California prohibits the sale of colored margarine. The state tax is $100 for a manufacturer; $50 for a wholesaler; nothing for a grocer, and only $2 for a restaurant which wants to use oleo. The federal tax is $500 for a manufacturer, and it is 26 makers can spend several millions to get this bill passed, I suspect it isn't the $500 to which they object. The wholesaler pays a tax of $50, which is again, for selling colored oleo, but only $20 for uncolored, and the retailer pays $20 for selling colored, or only $5 for uncolored. There is an excise tax of 10 cents on colored oleo and 5 cents for uncolored. Congress doesn't defend the taxes; they were not put on to raise revenue, and may raise very little. The issue is COLOR. The makers of oleo want it to look like butter, in the homes, in the stores, in the restaurants.

At the moment all the oleo made is being sold; all the butter made is being sold. Butter is about 50c here. The farmer gets perhaps 10c of that. Oleo here is 40c today, where uncolored oleo has sold for 35c, colored has sold for 30c — yet the tax was not over 10c. The tax had little to do with the price, but supply and demand. Every tax could come off, and oleo could, and probably would, go up when demand is above supply, and go down under reverse conditions.

I've gone through 16 years of arguments. The tax was originally put on to protect the consumer from oleo made from cheap, foreign oils. Butter is the balance wheel of the dairy industry. When people buy all the liquid milk the dairyman has, he doesn't sell to the creamery to make butter. When the cows give more milk, or the customers buy less, butter can be made, and stored. The farmer may sell his butterfat and eat the cheaper oleo, for all I know.

If however, anything hurts the butter market, anything, like substitution in the restaurants or the homes, of a cheaper product, then the dairyman doesn't keep on milking too many cows. He sells them to the butcher. The cow census is down now.

The highest per capita use of butter was in 1926, when we averaged 18 1/2 pounds. That year Australia and Canada averaged 30 pounds; England 20 to 25 pounds, and New Zealand 47 pounds. People like butter; in a test cafeteria, with 7500 customers, when butter pats were 2c and oleo 1c, 93% took butter. When butter was 1c and oleo was free, 98% still took butter.

40% of the meat on your table, Mrs. Housewife, comes from the dairy industry. Where do you think the cowhide comes from, for the leather industry? The fertilizer helps grow the foods you eat.

An amendment was defeated to allow oleo to be colored like butter, but to have butter pats square and oleo pats round or triangular. An amendment to take the tariff off the oils used in oleo was defeated.

Mrs. Housewife, if you wrote me and said you wanted this bill passed, because you wanted cheaper oleo, I hope you'll not be disappointed. Did you really want to influence indirectly the quantity of drinking milk, or of butter, or to run the risk of increasing the prices of milk, or butter, or meat or of leather goods? Maybe you should write the Senators, who now have the bill, and tell them you didn't quite understand, and that you'd like an amendment which would let you have oleo or butter as you want, and colored oleo if you want and without taxes, but which would always, anywhere, make it easy for you to know if it was butter or if it was oleo. That was the real issue.

Centralia School Open House Big Success

Showing the interest of the parents in the work done by their children at school, was the large attendance at open house and the program at the Centralia school Friday evening which climaxed the celebration of Public School week. Work of the students during the year was on display in the various rooms until eight o'clock when a program in the auditorium was presented in which every room had a part.

The result of the untiring efforts of Mrs. Marie Fowler in the music department was shown in the songs presented by the glee club of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Fowler also directed the verse choir of the fourth and fifth grades in two selections, "Twenty-Nine Years" and "Independence Bell."

Mr. Stems, a former student of Centralia school and later a member of the school board, who is a member of the Buena Park Masonic lodge, spoke briefly, giving a short history on the observance of Public School week which originated with the Masonic lodge 25 years ago.

A clever little health play was presented by the first and second grades directed by Mrs. Marie Fowler and an Indian dance was given by Mrs. Helen Betts. Mrs. Fowler also directed the verse choir of the fourth and fifth grades in two selections, "Twenty-Nine Years" and "Independence Bell."

Contributed by the sixth and seventh grades taught by Mrs. Helen Betts, were several compositions written by the students after seeing a motion picture on South America. Shirley Swafford read her paper on "Bolivia," "A Montevideo Family," "Wilhelmina Van Hunkler," "Argentina," "Dora Cuevas," and "A Good Neighbor Family" by Peggy Mills. A short history of the Centralia school was read by Peggy Reece.

The eighth grade was represented by two of their members, Caroline Korn, who sang "Who Will Buy My Violets" and Jeanette Koss, who offered a piano solo, "Meditation" by Morrison.

The program was concluded by the glee club who sang "Follow the Glean" and "Taps" with Dora Cuevas playing the accompaniment. Margaret Colbaugh serves as announcer during the program.

Burial Services Wednesday For Artesia Resident

Holy Rosary was recited Tuesday night at the Arnold Funeral home Home in Artesia and Requiem high mass was offered Wednesday 9 o'clock in the Holy Family church for Edward Van De Maele, 60, who died Sunday at his home at 10261 Bloomfield avenue.

Interment took place in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery in Orange.

Van De Maele was a native of Belgium and came to the United States in 1910, locating in the Los Alamitos district where he owned and operated a large dairy. He was a member of the Holy Family Catholic Parish in Artesia.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Hortensia Van De Maele; a daughter, Mrs. Alice DeSlusser, Artesia; a son, Victor Van De Maele of Los Alamitos, three brothers, Richard, Leon, and Mamiel Van De Maele, all in Belgium; two sisters, Mrs. Lucia De Kny and Mrs. last week's issue, since he is a Teresa Gint, also in Belgium, and lieutenant in the United States three grandchildren.

"Twenty" Second Men

Naval air reservists at the Naval Air Station, Los Alamitos, demonstrate how they can extinguish an aircraft fire in twenty seconds by laying a blanket of foam over the burning wreck. The first and fourth men from the left are clad in asbestos suits, and in an actual crash would move in under cover of the foam to rescue the occupants of the plane. This is part of the training a naval air reservist receives when reporting each alternate week end on Saturday or Sunday for his organized drill period. The program is open to veterans of all branches of the services and to non-veterans 17-40 who receive two full days' Navy pay for each of these brief training periods.

VFW Meeting Here Wednesday Night To Elect Officers

Wednesday night, May 12, the meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held in the Cypress schoolhouse. This will be known as "Charter night" and the group hopes to complete the membership, which is set at twenty-five charter members. All who are interested and eligible are urged to attend so that the final organization can take place and an election of officers held.

Principle speaker for the evening will be V. P. Mullin, chief of staff for the county and district commander.

Mill Here Is Being Developed

Robert A. Mells Sr., recently returned from a business trip to Illinois, bringing back by truck milling machinery for Bob's Flour and Cereal Mill. This mill is owned and operated by the senior Mells and his son, Robert A. Mells, Jr.

The mill concentrates mostly on packaging flour for restaurants, and is to a large extent, wholesale. However, they retail pancake flour, buckwheat pancake flour, whole wheat flour and corn meal. At present the mill operates with two roller mills and four sifter mills, but it is hoped that shortly other machinery may be moved from their interests still held in the east. This would allow them to expand into cereals to a greater extent.

To Open Appliance Repair Shop Here

Carroll Qualls and Kenneth Brown, who have been operating a small appliance repair shop locally from their home at 5242 Lincoln avenue, are planning to set up a permanent shop in the building on Lincoln avenue which was recently taken over by the Trio Cabinet Shop. There is office space for the two businesses. Qualls and Brown are brothers-in-law.

They will install a lawn mower sharpener machine and service radios, washing machines, refrigerators, vacuums and all general appliance repair. They expect to open about May 15.

Al's Barber Shop Changes Hands

This week a deal was completed whereby Al Campbell sold his barber shop to E. V. Corby of Gardena. The transfer of ownership will be made within the next week or so.

Campbell will leave soon for Wyoming and Montana where he has secured a franchise to sell "Nu-form" batteries. He will assemble and distribute his product in this area. Mrs. Campbell, and his aunt, Mrs. Mary Riley, who lives in their home, will follow in a few weeks. The Campbell's home is at 202 Sprague street. As a Cypress businessman, Al has always taken an interest in local affairs and while the community regrets to see him leave, the best wishes for success go with him.

CORRECTION

L. O. L. Logan, brother to Mrs. Richard, Leon, and Mamiel Van De Maele, was not under army desertion as erroneously stated in Mrs. Lucia De Kny and Mrs. last week's issue, since he is a Teresa Gint, also in Belgium, and lieutenant in the United States three grandchildren.

Funeral For Baby Son Of Hendrens

Bennie Lee Hendren, four-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Hendren, 8572 Summer avenue, Cypress, passed away Sunday at the Fullerton Cottage hospital. In addition to his parents, he is survived by a one-year-old sister, Donna Jean Hendren.

Graveside services were conducted on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in Westminster Memorial Park with Rev. Victor G. Hayman of the Baptist church in Garden Grove officiating. Renaker mortuary in Buena Park was in charge of arrangements.

NOTICE

An open meeting, for everyone interested in the sewerage plan for county sanitation district No. three will be held in the Cypress school house Monday evening, May 10, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. Representatives of the county board of supervisors, county sanitation board and officials from Westminster, Stanton, Los Alamitos, La Habra, Fullerton, Anaheim, and Buena Park and many more have been invited to attend.

BE THERE!

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Met

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That Bill and Stella Radzick are going to be married soon and live happily in Cypress ever after. The wedding date has been tentatively set for June 19 and the necessary arrangements are now in progress for what promises to be a big affair. A formal announcement will be made in these columns, but we thought you'd like to be the first to know that soon there will be a Mrs. Bill DeBoer helping out at "The Nest" at the corner of Lincoln and Walker.

That being new here we thought that Carl J. Sanders, Sr., and Carl J. Sanders, Jr., always went around with broad grins on their faces a mile wide. What we didn't know was that all in one day they became grandfather and father, respectively, to seven-month-old Carl J. Sanders, III! The baby boy was adopted recently by Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Sanders, Jr., and has become the light of their lives. The parents live at 4782 East Crescent, and the grandparents at 5805 Tibury, Lakewood.

That life in a beauty shop is not dull, at best, but sometimes reaches beyond even the normal. Saturday afternoon proprietor Elvie and customer were confronted with, of all things, a baby coyote in the custody of Mike O'Halloran. Seems that Norman Duncan had found a lair, or nest, or whatever baby coyotes live in, containing six and captured them. They're kinda cute.

That Ruth Doerr serves delicious desserts at noon, if you get there in time. That is, she has one special every lunch time. We like to think that we hold a secret means of reading the barometer of her social activities, as it were. On the mornings when she is up early, it gives pies. But after an evening of festivity when she needs those extra forty winks, there is cobbler or cake. Pies take more time and trouble. Get it?

That we are partial to athletic contests of any sort, and in lieu of any local team to support, since we are sort of a step-child of Buena Park's anyhow, we went to Amerige park in Fullerton for awhile to see the Lynx girls' softball team's first game with Montebello. The season's opener ceremonies were very colorful and what we saw of the game was GOOD, but we couldn't help wishing that we could get interested in some local Cypress talent. The business men's association is working on it, and who can tell? Maybe Cypress wouldn't have to "do it up brown" the first year, but could start out kind of small and unpretentious like and see what could be developed later. We've seen just as good softball played at our local home ball diamond by our brothers, husbands, or boy friends, for a dime admission to help cover the cost of equipment, sans fancy uniforms, and it was a heck of a lot more fun. Gave us an incentive to get the dishes done on a hot summer night and get out to that old ball park. P-l-a-y B-a-b!

That Monday will be a "red letter" night in Cypress. And we are talking about THIS Monday night, May 10. Elsewhere in this paper you will find an announcement of the meeting at the schoolhouse to be held in the interests of sanitation. And whether you are a "pro" or a "con," or just come to see for yourself and hear the discussion, you won't want to be anywhere else come Monday night, but at the school house. Even if you've heard about, don't understand it, and think it doesn't apply to you, don't let it keep you away. If you want to "bone" up for the meeting, secure the pamphlet entitled "Facts concerning the sewerage plan for county sanitation districts 2, 3 and 7" from Jack Fullerton, president of the Cypress Chamber of Commerce, or Russell Flynn, the secretary.

Church Group Here Rites Couple Recently Wed

The recent marriage of Miss Carrie Stamper to Leon Ferguson was inspiration for a lovely affair last night in the social hall of the Cypress Church of the Nazarene. The affair was planned by Mrs. Eric Jordan, wife of the pastor, who was assisted in party plans by Mrs. J. C. Napier, Mrs. Roxie Stearns and Mrs. G. E. Middle, who were responsible for the decorations and Mrs. Loda Woodard and Mrs. Percy Colman, who attended to the refreshments.

The theme of the party was suggested in the white crepe paper streamers over the side table on which the gifts were placed. Centering this table was a miniature replica of the wedding setting used in the Fullerton Nazarene church, with the arway entwined with fern, arrangements of roses on either side and tiny candles in glass holders making the bridal party, the whole being arranged on a large mirror.

Receiving the gift opening which was enjoyed before the refreshment hour, several games were enjoyed with prizes being won by Mrs. Roxie Stearns, Mrs. Carl Napier, and Mrs. Oscar Kelly with Joe Ferguson receiving a consolation award.

Attending the delightful affair, in addition to those mentioned were Mrs. Lloyd Wain, Mrs. Grace Stogdill, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norland and granddaughter, Bessie, Mrs. D. D. DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ferguson and daughter, Jeanette, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Sarah Chapman, Mrs. Irene Santhoff, Mrs. E. R. Sartwell, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Norville Chapman, Mrs. Hollis Woodmansee, Miss Etta Jean Bodkins, Miss Gayle McCoy, Miss Lois Cairns, Miss Barbara Polette, Stanley Martin, Jimmy and Gilbert Kelly, Hollis Woodmansee, Stephen Coffman, Howard Coffman, Rev. and Mrs. Eric Jordan and daughter, Marcia, and the honor guests.

Two Store Sites Announced By Cypress Firm

The new warehouse which has been under construction for the Central Feed store, 4832 East Lincoln avenue in Cypress, has recently been completed on Electric street, one block off Lincoln avenue. K. D. Tillema, proprietor, announces that this addition to his business interests is a mill and warehouse of approximately 4500 square feet. The new mill is equipped for bulk dairy and poultry feeds and grinding of wheat, oats, barley, corn, etc., will be handled to order. The main store at 4832 East Lincoln avenue is well stocked with dairy, poultry and rabbit feeds, and most of the retail selling is carried on there.

Tillema is well known in this area. He was in the dairy business for 15 years in this vicinity before he began business in the Central Feed Store. He and his wife and their six children reside in a home on property adjoining the main store.

PARK LYNX WIN SEASON OPENER

Beverly Melissen swatted herself a place in Buena Park's hall of fame Tuesday night at Amerige Park as she polled a homer in the last half of the seventh to score the winning run against the Ramblers.

Melissen's blow was the only hit for the Lynx during the game while Montebello got to Joan Alsop for a pair of bingles. The latter fanned 11.

Pre-game ceremonies featured Mayor Irvin C. Chapman of Fullerton, who threw in the first ball which was caught by Bill Ross, Southern California commissioner of the ASA. George Bellis, representing the Buena Park Chamber of Commerce, presented the Lynx with a bouquet of roses, which were accepted by Captain Marion Harvey in behalf of the team. Other Fullerton councilmen present at the ceremonies were Homer Bemis, Verne Wilkinson, and Tom Eadington.

The next home series will be played against the Phoenix Holsum Bakery Maids, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13, 14, and 15. The Maids are considered one of the strongest teams in the Pacific Southwest.

Impressive Rites For Bill Hartog

The last rites for Carl W. (Bill) Hartog, killed in an auto-train collision Thursday night, were conducted from the Renaker Chapel Tuesday afternoon with a great many of his friends in attendance. Rev. William T. Lewis, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Fullerton, officiated with graveside services conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Interment was in Loma Vista Memorial Park, Fullerton.

The accident which killed Hartog occurred at the Miller Road crossing of the P. E. line near Cypress. Seriously injured were Doris Hartog, wife of the deceased, and a young niece, Bonita Scott.

Carl William Hartog, 5332 Kingman avenue, was born in San Francisco, on January 14, 1946, and had been a resident of Buena Park for the past 12 years.

He is survived by his widow, Doris Jean Hartog; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hartog of Buena Park, and one sister, Alida Margaret Hartog of Los Angeles.

Fourth Grade Operetta Shows Outstanding Work

"The Frog Prince," a two act operetta, was presented to a large and appreciative audience in the Cypress school auditorium last Thursday evening by pupils of the fourth grade. Showing the result of the careful coaching and preparation of Mrs. Ellen McConnell, who was in charge of the dramatics and Mrs. Myrtha Baber, classroom music director, the children seemed to enter into the spirit of the play and performed in a very creditable manner. Adding to the colorfulness of the production were the clever costumes which were the work of the mothers.

The cast of characters included the king, enacted by Ralph Scully; queen Betty Benson; princess, Diana Leverich; frog prince, Ray Decker; gypsy, Bonnie Appleby; butler, Joe Cram; Spanish doll, Donald Adams; Eskimo doll, Ruby Tusjoka; English doll, Marilyn Wallace; Dutch doll, Rosalie Miller; Italian doll, Sandra Houghton; Chinese doll, Dick Prouse; Russian doll, Doris Simmons; French doll, Dick Wing; Japanese doll, Tommy Nook; American doll, Ivey Giles; peasants, Harry Washburn, Harvey Green, David Fender, and Tommy Doerr; servants, John Vieri, Kenneth Valentine and Lyle Lee; peasant children, Milton Steelman, Lillian Fullerton, Janet Teague, Warren Wertz and Carl Brisbane.

"Come Out to Play" and "Happy Birthday" were sung by the chorus followed by the "March of the Dolls" by the doll ensemble, each one carrying the flag of the country represented. "We're All A-kin" and "A Garden Ball" were sung as duets by the princess and the dolls and the princess and the king. "The Gypsy Song" was given as a musical recitation by the princess and the gypsy and "Goldilocks" was sung as a solo by the frog prince. Act one closed with "The Frog He Would A-wooing Go" by the chorus.

Only three songs were sung in Act II: "I Am the Great I Am" by the butler, "Promise Song" by the queen and "The Frog Prince" by the ensemble.

No admission price was charged but a free will offering was taken, the money to be placed in a fund to buy athletic equipment. Great credit is due the teachers who were responsible for the production, since many hours of hard work went into its production.

The early morning breakfast meeting of the local business men's association on Tuesday morning was well-attended and interesting. A report was made by the committee which is charged with setting up the machinery for controlling peddlers and solicitors, headed by Bill Reed.

The question of progress on the forming of some sort of athletic team was reported on and a review of difficulties and problems with former attempts to form a team were discussed. A night will be reserved for the use of the ball diamond on the school grounds, and the committee will report further on the matter of a team, or teams at the next meeting of the group.

The chief of the fire department, A. E. "rat" Arnold, announced that the plan to have the week beginning May 8 as clean-up week in Cypress to prevent fire hazards and clean-up the town in general, and the approval of the state forestry department, which makes it official.

Jack Fullerton inquired as to the possibilities of continuing the movies on Friday night which were popular last year, since he had been approached on the subject. It was decided that the matter was in the province of the park committee and the decision should rest with it.

W. A. Wier, of the All-in-All Stores, Inc., corrected the false impression given in an item in a neighboring newspaper concerning the retirement from the firm of James M. Harvey. In a short statement, Wier explained that Harvey was very much with the firm in the capacity of salesman and buyer.

The meeting was then turned over to Dr. Richard Pomeroy, engineer, who was introduced by President Frank Nos, and asked to explain the sewerage plan for county sanitation district 3. Pomeroy reviewed the history of the plan, discussed the cost of the plan as it now stands, and explained the reasons why changes have been made since the original set-up was presented. He also set forth reasons why he felt Cypress should join with other communities in the west end of Orange county in this limited participation program on an over-all county plan during the next 40 years of development, and not attempt a treatment plant of its own. It was indicated that one reason why the west end of the county had apparently not been too well favored in the future planning was because it was not well represented. It was pointed out that a community meeting would be held on Monday evening, May 10, at the Cypress school house and that the matter would be gone into thoroughly at that time and if the taxpayers and interested residents in this area there will be a better chance to reach an equitable solution to the needs of this section. The forces opposing the plan have been active for some time and have shown a good deal of strength. Those in favor of a plan which would benefit Los Alamitos, Stanton and Cypress should be present Monday night, it was pointed out.

Fire annually destroys enough timber and lumber to build 140,000 five-room houses.

A son was born recently in the Magnolia hospital in Long Beach to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sentino.

Two new members have been added to the Business association making a total of 28 member. They are W. C. Poe, Sr., and W. C. Poe, Jr.

Jerrie Kerr was pleasantly surprised when a group of friends remembered her birthday anniversary at a meeting of the Camp Fire Girls.

Honor Mother on her Day

The observance of Mother's Day on May 9, should serve to remind us of that affection which guards the infant footsteps, soothes the bumps and heartaches of childhood, guides in the problems of adolescence and stands ever ready to help in the later years.

It is most fitting that mother be honored for her love and loyalty, her patience and tenderness to her family. But we suspect that in too many instances she is deluged with gifts and good wishes on this one day of the year (which is all very good) but is very little appreciated the rest of the time.

By all means, give the little lady the honor due her on Mother's Day, but let some of the sentiment you feel spill over into the other days of the year. Give her a break now and then. Help her with the household chores. See that she gets out to dinner at least occasionally. Her job is probably the toughest and most trying in the world. Try to make it less so. That will mean more to her than all the gifts and words of praise on Mother's Day.

ARE YOU READY?

Just as a good spring housecleaning in the home is a "must" with every housewife, so a spring clean-up in a community reduces danger of fires and gives a "new look." Spring clean-up is already underway in thousands of communities, the Fire Chief A. E. "Pat" Arnold has proclaimed that citizens of Cypress shall engage in a week of such activity beginning May eighth.

This movement is credited with three-fold benefits to homes and neighborhoods throughout the nation: improved appearance of the grounds, improved health of residents, and greater safety against fire and accidents. It is estimated that 90 per cent of fires are caused by carelessness which shows itself in neglect of needed repairs about the house, indifference to the elementary safeguards in using flammable modern apparatus, as well as the common thoughtless disposal of lighted cigarettes and matches.

The annual elimination of fire hazards lowers the fire potential of a community and in final effect, saves lives that might otherwise be lost in fatal fires.

The campaign in Cypress will depend largely upon the work of each individual in making his own home and yard safe, then joining in the community effort with the fire department. The week purposely begins on a Saturday, so that the school children may have a hand in helping to clean and beautify this community. The school carnival will be over, kids, and you'll have the time, so let's go! See what you can do to help the grownups to safeguard our town against fire.

THIS AND THAT

Ben Lieberman, director of veterans affairs of Orange county, is urging veterans to file for property tax exemption. The deadline date to make application is May thirty-first. If application is not made, the veteran loses his rights for the $1000 tax exemption. To be eligible a veteran must be honorably discharged from war service or peace time campaign for which a medal was issued by Congress. He cannot have property and monies in excess of $5000. The Veterans Service Center is located at 225 North Broadway, Santa Ana (Phone 6215 for appointment) where full details may be learned.

With several hundred applicants on the current eligibility list for California highway patrolmen, no examinations are planned or scheduled by the state personnel board for employment in this field. The present eligible list will supply the need for highway patrolmen for considerable time under normal circumstances. This announcement was made recently from the office of the Orange county veterans service center as a warning to veterans who might be persuaded to spend time and money training for jobs not available at present except for those already qualified.

News that Tide Water Associated Oil Company would broadcast Pacific coast conference football games this season for the 23rd year, brought in a number of applications from sportscasters desiring to participate in this season's schedule. In addition to games played between conference members, a larger number of inter-sectional games have been scheduled on the Pacific coast this year by the conference teams. UCLA plays Northwestern at Los Angeles on September 25 and Washington and Minnesota continue their series at Seattle. Southern California continues the inter-sectional with Rice, at Los Angeles on October 9 while California meets Wisconsin in Berkeley. The inter-sectional season ends with Southern California vs. Notre Dame at Los Angeles on December 4.

Lists of approved schools and counsel and assistance for World War II veterans taking job or farm training under the G. I. Bill are provided by trained personnel at the Orange county veterans service center. Help is also given veterans who plan to take job or farm training or intend to enroll at a college or university.

Veterans who are enrolled in American colleges during the regular school year and want to take summer courses abroad under the G. I. Bill must meet certain requirements to qualify for such study. Veterans Administration recommends that the summer study be taken in an approved school in a foreign country served by an Attaché of Veterans Affairs assigned by the Department of State. Veterans may obtain information on foreign schools approved by VA by writing their VA regional office.

California plant quarantine inspectors, guarding the state's two billion dollars per year agricultural industry against damage by new insect pests and plant diseases, daily encounter and destroy hordes of new, strange and dangerous plant life enemies, such as giant land snails, termites, leaf beetles, wood borers and other potential pests. The protective work proceeds day and night at maritime ports, highway entry points, in postoffices, in express stations, and in countless intrastate inspections of plant materials and nursery stock.

The live Formosan fruit fly, it is said, was introduced into the Hawaiian Islands during the war, perhaps in 1944. It is now established in the territory and is doing serious damage to many island crops. It is feared that the fly might be transported to California in airplanes or vessels moving to the mainland. The fly attacks more than 40 fruits and vegetables, including all citrus and deciduous types, and it may also attack dates, figs and other California products.

In association with the postwar overseas salvage trade, flying, crawling and burrowing creatures are being deposited in an unending stream on California docks. One estimate is that in excess of one million tons of cargo from South Pacific ports have been in outdoor storage where it could become contaminated easily. With in, on and over this vast debris of amphibious war come exotic insects, some large, some minute, some gay-colored, some sombre-sheathed; some cunning, some dull; some buried snug and deep in the tropic-baked soil clinging to abandoned tanks, moldy motors, unopened kegs of nails, and the other miscellaneous impediments garnered for salvage from island outposts. The plant quarantine inspection force is constantly alert to the danger to California agriculture represented by this flow of mysterious flora and voracious fauna of the south seas, the Orient and numberless trade wind ports of call.

A large number of veterans who pay their National Service Life Insurance premiums by mail, continue to send cash to their Veterans Administration branch office. Recently, one of the VA branch offices was going through its daily batch of mail and came across an envelope, opened by the machine letter openers, sprouting good, green $100 bills. . . 17 of them to be exact. Some veteran had sent the VA $1700 in $100 bills to be applied to his G. I. insurance account. Well, the veteran who sent that money was lucky. Lucky because it arrived safely through the mail at the VA, and lucky because he had taken the trouble to identify himself properly which enabled the VA to credit the correct account. But some veterans are not so fortunate. If money gets lost in the mail, cash that is, the VA has no way of knowing that payment has been made on a particular account, and the veteran has no way of knowing the VA did not receive his payment until he gets notice that his policy has lapsed. Then he has no way of proving he made a payment. So, here's a tip. DO NOT SEND CASH when paying your G. I. insurance premiums BY MAIL. Instead, use money orders or postal orders (with the reverse side filled out in full) or send checks (personal checks are acceptable.).

Here's another tip. Be sure that

MISS WORLD TRADE—Alexis Smith, blonde beauty of the screen, has been appointed to reign during World Trade Week May 16-22 in personification of spirit of the Southland's multi-million-dollar shipping and international commerce. Wearing specially designed costume with globe symbolizing peaceful trade among nations, Miss Smith, a native of Canada, will preside as official hostess at events arranged by Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce World Trade Week Committee for twenty-second observance of the annual event.

FATHER and SON

EVEREADY TRAILER TRUCK

Cost: Dad, $3.00 for motor—Son, 75 cents for materials. Materials may be obtained at local hobby shop.

Dear Dad:

This trailer truck is powered with a midget electric motor and employs direct front wheel drive. It is activated by one or more No. 950 Eveready flashlight cells (drawings show two cells hooked up in series) and is easy to build. It is composed of two complete units: the cab or engine unit and the truck section which is pivoted loosely to the cab platform directly above the cab rear wheels. The truck unit may have twin wheels as shown or single wheels can be used at a saving of about ten cents in costs. Wheels used are the cheapest model airplane wheels (available in series) and are advertised by most model firms.

Start operations by making up full-size plans of the wooden parts. This is done following the scaled drawings, Figures 1 and 2, which are squared to simplify dimensions. Exact adherence to the given dimensions is not important, and in fact the overall size of the truck unit can be reduced if preferred. Top and base or bottom of the truck should be the same size and shape but the base must be cut out to clear the wheels and also to allow small radius turns. These pieces are later joined with a single length of light cardboard which is cemented in place.

The backpiece should be simply pinned in place to permit quick removal for servicing the batteries. Before assembling the pieces, put in the switch as shown and then cut out, bend to shape and mount the battery clips. The truck unit can then be completed and laid aside.

The cab unit requires no explanation as far as the chassis goes. The body itself can be carved from solid balsa or built up to suit—the lighter the better. The motor is screwed directly onto the chassis as shown. Three 3/4" screws are required here. It will be seen that the front axle, which is a continuation of the motor shaft, requires some sort of extension axle. This can be formed of two short lengths of steel wire or pieces of nail and two short lengths of tubing. These can be soldered together or, in a pinch, joined with cement. Wheel track on the model described is 2 3/4" but may be reduced to 2 1/2" to suit. If you find after hooking up the wiring that your truck runs backwards, don't worry. All you need to do is reverse the batteries in their clip.

Sincerely yours,

your payment, if made by mail, contains your full name, your complete address, your insurance number and claim number if you have one, and so that there can be no doubt of who you are, include the date of your birth and your service serial number. Giving this full information will identify you beyond a doubt and enable the VA to credit the correct account with your remittance.

The secretary-manager of the state fair, E. P. Green, has advised that now is the time to make sure your name is on the list to receive premium books you want from the California State Fair, to be held in Sacramento, September 2 through 12. Green said those interested should simply address a letter to California State Fair, P. O. Box 2036, Sacramento, listing premium books in which they are interested. The list includes: Livestock, Dairy products, County exhibits, Horse show, Junior division, Arts and crafts, Floriculture, Poultry, Pigs, and Rabbits.

Thirsty state fair visitors will sip their thirst quenchers from safe and sanitary paper cups next September, it has been decided by the board of directors. A ruling banning sale of beverages in bottles was voted at a recent meeting. It was also voted that the top price of 14 cents, including tax, be set on children's rides in the carnival area. Last year they cost 25 cents.

Local Eighth Grade Players Perform Well

"Summer Rash" was the name of the annual eighth grade play presented at the Cypress school on Tuesday evening. The play centers about a group of teenagers who attempt a summer theater and their trials and tribulations before eventual success.

Leading feminine role, a budding young author, was played by Eleanor Ausburn and the male lead of Kenneth Fowler, the young producer, was taken by Ralph Mason. Supporting cast was Carol Tayton, Ada LaVerne Stanley; Hamlet Henderson, Duane Duncan; Danny Milton, David Hahn; Ruthie Peters, Pauline Houghton; Julia Sterling, Rose Marie Bader; Frank, Neal Collins; Mrs. Fowler, Clara Willard; Mrs. Hughes, Carolyn Head and Miss Brighton, Margie Ramirez.

Between the acts, vocal numbers were presented under the direction of Mrs. Myrtha Baber. The Songsters, a girls' choral group, sang three numbers, "Adantino," "Pagan Love Song," and "Now is the Hour;" "God Bless America" was sung by Robert Van Dyke, "One Love" by Eleanor Ausburn, and "When You Wish Upon a Star" by Ada LaVerne Stanley.

Mrs. Calvin Fields and baby son, Dennis Wayne, have returned home from Anaheim community hospital where the young man made his debut on April 19. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Marco of Hansen road, Cypress, and paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Green Fields of Buena Park. This is the first baby for the Calvin Fields.

Dress Alike For Mother's Day

Matching plaid cotton breakfast frocks with set-in midriffs for mother and daughter.

Actually she may not be the prettiest mother in the world, but she'll expect her family to think she is—all over again—on Mother's Day. That's why, on May 9, she will want to look her best in a new dress.

Maybe, if today's mother is young enough, she will want to dress herself and her small daughter just alike, at least for breakfast and the morning. The identical Summer cottons pictured today are typical of a series shown by New York designers for mothers who have Junior figures, and their little girls who wear sizes three to six. Other styles are done in plain color cotton with white embroidery, and in pastel linens.

However many birthdays Mother has celebrated, or whatever her size may be, she'll find lots of attractive Summer fashions to choose from for her special day. She might well pick a New York dress in a pink-on-black carnation print, the hip-length jacket fitted over a soft skirt with pleats just in front. Or, if she's always preferred black for dress-up purposes, she could choose a simple one-piece dress with a young, high neckline, short sleeves and side skirt drapery, with both the bodice and drapery decorated with rows of fagotting.

In celebration of the birthday anniversary of Bernadine Stempel, Monday was spent in Hollywood attending a number of radio shows including "Heart's Desire" and "Meet the Mrs." Attending were Mrs. A. H. Stempel, Joan Taylor, Joyce Stempel and the honor guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Worthington enjoyed a visit from their daughter, Mrs. J. Settle and three children of Alhambra on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Norland have moved into their newly completed apartment over their place of business on Lincoln boulevard.

Double Ring Ceremony For Local Couple

One of the loveliest of spring weddings took place on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. Boniface Catholic church when Miss Betty Mae Valentine exchanged wedding vows with Elio J. Ronconi in a double ring ceremony. Father John Hall was the officiating clergyman.

The couple recited their nuptial vows before an altar decorated in all white flowers. Tall baskets of waxy white gladioli were used in the inner sanctuary with white stock on the upper altar and potted palms making the background.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Walter Parks of Riverside, was lovely in her gown of white slipper satin styled with a full skirt ending in a long train. The neckline was high with a nylon yoke and an off shoulder bertha, beaded where it joined the form fitting bodice. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrists. Her net veil was of fingertip length and lace trimmed and fell from a beaded tiara. The bridal bouquet was semi-cross in shape and fashioned from white carnations, white lilies centered with a detachable lavender orchid. Bridal tradition of "something old" was observed in the ring which she wore and which had been her mother's engagement ring; the "borrowed" feature, was her veil which belonged to Mrs. John Murdoch, a friend of her grammar school and high school days; she wore the traditional blue garter and a lucky sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. Virginia Wertz, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of chartreuse chiffon with full skirt, low neck and short puffed sleeves. A tiny veil of matching color was held to her hair with a small beaded cap and her long mitts were of white lace. Her bouquet was shaped similar to that of the bride but was made of lavender carnations and lilies with matching ribbon loops.

Miss Olga Ronconi, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid and her gown was of pink with a ruffled skirt. Her matching veil was fastened to a ruffled halo and her long white mitts were of lace. Her flowers were identical to those of the matron of honor.

The bridegroom had the assistance of Robert Valentine, brother of the bride, as best man and ushers were Andy McKay and Raymond Oelke.

Mrs. A. F. Faust played a prelude of organ music and the wedding march.

The bridegroom had the assistance of Robert Valentine, brother of the bride, as best man and ushers were Andy McKay and Raymond Oelke.

Mrs. Ronconi wore a suit of olive green with black accessories, accented by a corsage of tallisman roses.

Later relatives and a few close friends attended the reception which was held at Uncle Gabriel's Log Cabin in Downey.

When the newly married pair left later in the afternoon for a week's honeymoon at an undisclosed destination, the bride was wearing a semi-tailored suit of dusty rose with accessories of white and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home in Cypress.

Mrs. Ronconi is the daughter of Mrs. Edith Valentine and is a graduate of Centralia Elementary and Anaheim high schools. She is employed at Knott's Berry Farm. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Ronconi of Orange avenue in Cypress, and attended Anaheim high school.

Little Gary and Virginia Jordan of Anaheim spent several days this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harden while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jordan were in Los Angeles.

Old Missouri Sale Bill Found

Something interesting or clever has a habit of getting around the newspapers in a state — and if it is better than usual it jumps boundaries of a certain locale quickly and may be found in papers all over the country. Such is the reprint of announcement of a public sale that has turned up in Missouri lately. Both Lee Pennington and Emmett Woods brought in copies of their hometown Missouri papers to show us these reprints. The story says this sale bill is over 100 years old and was typical of the sales held when Pike county was headquarters for the outitters to California during gold rush days. The bill is as follows:

PUBLIC SALE

State of Missouri, county of Pike, to whom it may concern. The undersigned will, on Tuesday, September 29, A.D., sell at public outcry for cash on premises where Coon creek crosses the old Mission road, the following chattels, to-wit: 6 yoke of oxen with yokes and chains, 2 wagons with beds, 2 nigger wenches, 4 buck niggers, 25 steel traps, 1 barrel pickled cabbage, 1 hoghead tobacco, 1 lot nigger hoes, 1 spinning wheel, 1 loom, 13 fox hounds, a lot of coon, mink and skunk skins and many miscellaneous articles too numerous to mention. Am gwine to California.

John Dee Richard Roe, Cryer Free head cheese, apples and hard cider.

Mrs. Herb Evans, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. R. Hobbs and son, left last Tuesday for a two months trip through the midwest where they will visit relatives and friends.

Pleased with the splendid record made during the past year, members of the Nazarene Young People's society re-elected Stanley Martin to head its organization for a second term when annual election of officers took place at a recent meeting.

Assisting as vice-president will be Etta Jean Bodkins; secretary-treasurer, Leon Ferguson. Serving on the program committee will be Mrs. Noxie Stearns, Hollis Woodmansee, and Etta Jean Bodkins; social committee, Marie Presville, Gayle McCoy and Mrs. Lloyd Wallis; missionary committee, Mrs. J. C. Napier and Mrs. E. G. Riddle; librarian, Wanda Wolford and head usher, Bobby Stearns.
